

The logo is a circular emblem with a dark blue background. At the top, the text "NATIONAL CRIME VICTIMS' RIGHTS WEEK" is written in white, uppercase letters, following the curve of the top edge. In the center, the word "KINSHIP" is written in large, bold, orange, uppercase letters. Below it, the words "CONNECTING & HEALING" are written in white, uppercase letters, with an ampersand symbol between "CONNECTING" and "HEALING". Two thin white horizontal lines are positioned above and below the central text. The background features a faint, light blue gear pattern and a circuit-like path of small circles connected by lines, suggesting interconnectedness and technology.
