NARRATIVE QUESTIONS

1. Please explain any significant change in the number of applications received during the reporting period.
There has not been a significant change in the number of applications received during the reporting period.
2. The average length of time to process an application for claim eligibility for compensation
Count days from time of receipt of application to decision. 38

Please explain your state's procedure for processing an application for claim eligibility, from time of receipt of application to decision. For compensation claims, after receipt and data entry on our claims system, a copy of the claim form is sent to the prosecutor's office in the judicial or federal district where the crime occurred, requesting that they provide pertinent case details. The examiner assigned to work the claim in our office reviews the supporting documentation filed with the application, communicates requests and statuses to the claimant, and awaits any further documentation and the report of the prosecutor. The examiner makes a recommendation, including any payment recommendations, and a supervisory staff member reviews the work to conclude the claim. We send a decision to each claimant outlining the decision and the right to appeal. If a claimant agrees with an approval decision, the claimant may request that the payments be processed. If a claimant disagrees with a decision, the claimant may file an appeal with the TN Claims Commission. Any decisions on appealed claims are processed through our office in a manner similar to the initial process on a claim. Forensic claims are nearly identical except for the role of the prosecutor and right to appeal. (Forensic claims are not included in this "days to decide" average.)
3. Does your state have a victim satisfaction survey?
No
4. Please describe any emerging/major issues or notable trends that were encountered in your state that had an impact on your program's ability to meet the needs of crime victims during the reporting period.
There has not been any emerging/major issues or notable trends encountered in the State of Tennessee impacting the program's ability to meet the needs of crime victims.
5. Please describe in detail efforts taken to serve Victims of Federal Crime during the reporting period.
We believe our coordination with the FBI liaisons and United States Attorneys' Offices is an effective way to reach federal crime victims. We invite FBI liaisons and federal victim witness coordinators to training sessions to equip them with eligibility and benefit information on the Tennessee Criminal Injuries Compensation Program. The USAO also are integral to information gathering and provide a prosecutor's feedback on all cases (as part of our program procedures).
6. Please describe any notable activities during the reporting period that improved the process of victim compensation services.
Management routinely focuses on improved customer service, efficient processing and caseload balancing/management. Our customer service representative often works with victims prior to filing a claim to ensure proper supporting information is included, and he routinely contacts claimants who are unresponsive to written communication to get them re-engaged in the process.
7. Please describe in detail ways in which your state used VOCA Administrative funds and the impact of these funds on the state's ability to improve victim compensation services during the reporting period.
We do not use the administrative funds provision of the grant.
8. Were there any laws, initiatives, or policy changes in your state regarding victim compensation during the reporting period? If yes, please briefly describe them and their impact.
No.
9. Please describe system-coordination efforts with prosecutors, law enforcement, courts, U.S. attorneys' offices, tribal systems, State VOCA Victim Assistance Coordinator, or other key personnel within the criminal justice system in your state to reduce barriers to victims who may apply to receive victim compensation.
We communicated daily with the prosecutors' offices across the state, since they provide factual information on each claim that we process. They often facilitate filing of the claim or information the victim may not be able to obtain. Further, key personnel/advocates attended ongoing training we provide. We also have materials and website information available. Our customer service representative communicated with victims or advocates needing additional assistance with the process or how the process works. We coordinate how certain items can be obtained to meet the claim requirements. Multiple points of contact occur with a claimant to enhance the process and increase the chance for a successful claim. Coordination and relationship-building reduced barriers. We attended trainings provided by others, including the state victim academy. We continue to support and attend a statewide event honoring homicide victims: Tennessee Season to Remember.
10. Please explain any public outreach efforts to improve awareness of your program.

We provided quarterly training to any and all victim advocates that wished to participate. Workshops are free of charge and available in various parts of the state. The participants included advocates from law enforcement, prosecutor offices, rape crisis centers, domestic violence shelters, child advocacy centers, medical facilities, etc. This year we expanded outreach to create law-enforcement specific training with an emphasis on police departments, sheriffs' departments and campus security departments and officers. This effort nearly doubled the number of persons trained annually by our program.
