NARRATIVE QUESTIONS

1. Please explain any significant change in the number of applications received during the reporting period.
During this reporting period, there was a small decrease in the number of applications received. This followed a significant increase during the previous 3 reporting period.
2. The average length of time to process an application for claim eligibility for compensation
Count days from time of receipt of application to decision. 131

Please explain your state's procedure for processing an application for claim eligibility, from time of receipt of application to decision. Applicants submit their claims by email, fax or regular mail. Claim information is entered into the ClaimsAssistant system, and the claim is assigned to a specialist. A form is then sent to the investigating law enforcement agency to verify the crime. Claims specialists review the application and the law enforcement form to make an initial eligibility decision. If all of the eligibility requirements are met, the file is forwarded to other staff to gather billing forms from providers listed on the application, an employment form, funeral billing form, and other documentation of losses listed on the application. The claims specialists then review all of the information received, and determine the amounts to be paid to the applicant and/or the providers. Another staff person prepares a payment order, and explanation of benefits forms to send to the applicant and providers. If the claim clearly does not meet eligibility requirements or there are no expenses to pay, the staff deny or close the claim. If there is some question about the applicant's eligibility under the program's statutes and rules regarding certain requirements, the claim may be forwarded to the 5-member Reparations Board for review. The board votes on the eligibility of claims forwarded to them by staff, and they may vote to pay in full, reduce the claim, or deny the claim. There is an appeals process for applicants who are dissatisfied with a staff or Board decision on a claim.
3. Does your state have a victim satisfaction survey?
Yes

A. Number of victim satisfaction surveys distributed during the reporting period. 1,626

B. Number of victim satisfaction surveys completed during the reporting period. 82

C. Number of surveys that indicated satisfaction with the victim compensation program during the reporting period. 79
4. Please describe any emerging/major issues or notable trends that were encountered in your state that had an impact on your program's ability to meet the needs of crime victims during the reporting period.
During this reporting period, there was a decrease in expenditures. For most of the reporting period there were several unfilled staff positions which resulted in a backlog of claims. It is likely that the decrease in expenditures was a result of the backlog rather than any trends.
5. Please describe in detail efforts taken to serve Victims of Federal Crime during the reporting period.
The program continued working closely with the FBI s victim specialists in Minneapolis and Bemidji to serve victims of federal crimes during this reporting period. Reparations staff responded to questions from FBI specialists about reparations policies and procedures. This collaborative effort helped ensure the best services for victims of federal crimes.
6. Please describe any notable activities during the reporting period that improved the process of victim compensation services.
The program reviewed staffing needs as a result of several retirements of longstanding staff members. A new bi-lingual administrative position was created (though not yet filled) to assist Spanish speaking victims. A training curriculum for existing and newly appointment board members was discussed and a Board manual was developed to assist board members in their decision making process.
7. Please describe in detail ways in which your state used VOCA Administrative funds and the impact of these funds on the state's ability to improve victim compensation services during the reporting period.
The VOCA administrative funds are dedicated to the support of one clerical position with the reparations program. The person in this position sets up new reparations claims, assists walk-in applicants, answers phone inquiries from applicants and service providers, sends an initial letter to the applicant, and corresponds and obtains law enforcement reports from the investigating law enforcement agency. This position helps the program process claims in a timely manner.
8. Were there any laws, initiatives, or policy changes in your state regarding victim compensation during the reporting period? If yes, please briefly describe them and their impact.

9. Please describe system-coordination efforts with prosecutors, law enforcement, courts, U.S. attorneys' offices, tribal systems, State VOCA Victim Assistance Coordinator, or other key personnel within the criminal justice system in your state to reduce barriers to victims who may apply to receive victim compensation.

System-coordination efforts included participating in a training along with the Crime Victim Justice Unit director and tribal partners. This training was attended by 60 advocates and criminal justice professionals from around the state. The trainings covered victims rights, reparations and other victim services issues, with a focus on reaching and serving Native American victim both on and off tribal lands. The reparations training provided participants with general information on the reparations program, as well as how Native Americans can be reimbursed for traditional healing ceremonies. Additional reparations trainings were provided at other venues as well, including the 2018 Minnesota Victim Assistance Academy.
