    DCVC continues to improve our overall processing of victims compensation claims. Our Days to Process reports show a decrease in the average number of days to process a claim from receipt of application to eligibility decision. We also reduced the number of times therapists have to justify reimbursement for therapy; down from four times to 2 times for the life of a counseling claim. Finally, we are continuing to send out regular EBlasts! to advocates throughout the state on various topics relevant to our work.

7. Please describe in detail ways in which your state used VOCA Administrative funds and the impact of these funds on the state's ability to improve victim compensation services during the reporting period.

    During the period, we used VOCA Administrative Funds for training. The training provided us with critical updates regarding VOCA funds and gave us information to help our program better assist victims of crime.

8. Were there any laws, initiatives, or policy changes in your state regarding victim compensation during the reporting period? If yes, please briefly describe them and their impact.

    A Proviso was renewed this year, which increased the funeral/burial cap for homicide expenses from $4,000 to $6,500.

9. Please describe system-coordination efforts with prosecutors, law enforcement, courts, U.S. attorneys' offices, tribal systems, State VOCA Victim Assistance Coordinator, or other key personnel within the criminal justice system in your state to reduce barriers to victims who may apply to receive victim compensation.

Our agency has worked and continues to work very diligently with various stakeholders in training and educating them on our programs, services, and benefits. We have worked in a collaborative effort with various law enforcement agencies, advocates, and non-profit groups as our office hosted a regional training. We work closely with the South Carolina Victim Assistance Network (SCVAN) on the annual SC Victims Rights Week Conference. In addition, we have a new policy in which staff members must conduct field visits at least six times a year to meet and educate criminal justice personnel about our work. We have built and continue to build strong partnerships that we hope will continue to enhance the quality of applications received for compensation.

10. Please explain any public outreach efforts to improve awareness of your program.

During this reporting period, our agency has coordinated and conducted 46 training events across the State of SC and trained 943 participants. The training events were for various groups such as hospitals, law enforcement agencies, district attorney offices, churches, child advocacy centers, schools, sexual assault facilities, domestic violence shelters, and other organizations providing direct victim services. We also were asked to participate and present for the following conferences: Solicitor s Conference, The Law Enforcement Victim Advocate Association Conference, SC Coalition Against Domestic Violence and Sexual Assault, and the SC Victims Rights Week Conference. Our agency also continued monthly and/or quarterly EBlasts! for Restitution and the Sexual Assault Program. The emails are distributed to various hospital officials, advocates, court officials, and law enforcement.
